

Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University

“Linguistic bridge connecting Asian countries—Asian Community in the light of languages and cultures”

Duration: From April to July, 2015

- #01           Orientation of the course
I Yeonsuk (prof., Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University)
鄭俊坤 (chief researcher, One Asia Foundation)

- #02           Modern Japanese culture and Asia
William Marotti (associate professor, University of California, Los Angeles)

- #03           Genealogy of “Asian Community” proposals in the case of Japan
Masayoshi Matsunaga (specially appointed professor, Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University)

- #04           Modern Asia from a viewpoint of “hygiene”
Jun Yoo (associate professor, Modern Korean History, Hawaii University)

- #05           Medical circumstance of East Asia
ファン・サンイク (professor, Humanistic Medicine, Seoul National University)

- #06           Religions and modern societies in East Asia
崔鐘成 (associate professor, Science of Religion, Seoul National University)

- #07           Asian Community seen from Mongolian viewpoint
フフバートル (associate professor, Showa Women’s University)

- #08           Economic development in Asia and its obstructive factors
Soya Mori (senior researcher, Institute of Developing Economies)

- #09           Languages and communities in Indonesia – multilingual societies in Southeast Asia
Kaoru Kouchi (part-time instructor, Daito Bunka University)

- #10           Frontier of Kanji Literature in Taiwan and its imagination
陳培豐 (research fellow, Academia Sinica, Taiwan)

- #11           A meeting point of America and Asia—regarding poetess Theresa Hak Kyung Cha
Mayumo Inoue (associate professor, Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University)

- #12           Modernism in China and modern representation
Masahisa Suzuki (professor, Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University)

- #13           Taiwan as a multiethnic and multilingual society
Hironobu Hoshina (professor, Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University)

- #14           An inquiry into the meaning of “modern times” —struggle of Chinese intellectuals

Hirobumi Sakai (professor, Graduate School of Language & Society, Hitotsubashi University)

#15

Concluding lecture – For the establishment of Asian Community
Yoji Sato (director, One Asia Foundation)